Dear Friend:

I hope that you are having a great year. Gifts from our friends and alumni allow us to support our current students and maintain outstanding teaching collections. Last spring, we used your generous donations to pay for Anthropology Reception for graduating students. With your gifts our two outstanding students were able to attend international Anthropology conferences. In January, we were able to purchase a number of animal skeletons for our new class on faunal analysis, which Professor Plummer is teaching during the Spring of 2017.

I am writing to you at this unusual time of the year with exciting news. We are pleased to announce that the college has provided the department with space for an archaeology teaching laboratory. Yet, we still lack critical resources such as microscopes, 3D laser scanners, artifact casts, and photogrammetric equipment, which would make the facility a state of the art teaching laboratory. Please consider making a small donation to help us get our new teaching lab going.

As always, we love receiving news from our former students and friends of our department. You can reach me via e-mail: Pechenkina@yahoo.com or phone: 718-997-5529. Please, send us news about life (your career, research, and family). Gifts such as yours make it possible for us to support our student and faculty programs, and we are extremely grateful for your contribution.

Our sincere thanks!

Kate Pechenkina, Ph. D.
