

Minor in Power and Inequality

Department of Anthropology, School of Social Sciences, Queens College

UPDATED 15 MAY 2022

The Minor in Power and Inequality is designed to help students learn and engage with social issues, especially those related to ongoing inequalities in the U.S. and abroad. The Minor in Power and Inequality is designed for students who want to understand better and participate in policy initiatives, social analysis, and activism aimed at addressing inequality. The Minor in Power and Inequality is ideal for those who seek to pursue careers in law, education, development, civil service and government, law enforcement, public health, and nonprofit organizations.

The Minor in Power and Inequality consists of six courses totaling 18 credits. This includes two required introductory courses, one intermediate course, and three electives. The full list of Anthropology courses with descriptions can be found on the Anthropology Department website:

https://qcpages.qc.cuny.edu/ANTHRO/Web\_Pages/Courses.html

The Minor in Power and Inequality can be easily combined with Majors in other departments. If combined with a Major in Anthropology, four of the six courses (12 of the 18 credits) can overlap between the Major and the Minor and only 2 extra courses (6 extra credits) are required.
