The halls are alive with music

Bach to School

The students of St. Stan's were treated to a classical music concert by violinist Jessica Tortorice and pianist Peter Ludlow. The concert included performances of works by Bach, Mozart, and Beethoven. The program Bach to School is the brainchild of Dr. Maxine Fisher, author and longtime friend of St. Stan's, and the gift of Professor Edward Smaldone, head of the Aaron Copland School of Music at Queens College. Fisher hopes to offer classical mini-concerts featuring Queens College musicians to elementary schools starting next year.
